

POEM: Alone

Laura Ann Tull

Jan 19, 2017

I don't know what to feel because my heart is broken.

I don't know what to say because you took my love away.

And I don't know where to go because I'm lost to you.

And I don't know what to say because you took my love away.

And this is how it goes.

This lullaby only I know.

I can't sleep at night.

I just think about our fight.

And I now live my life alone.

I don't wander far from home.

Because you took my heart away.

Left me here lost broken and alone.
