Wow. Im running late and going to tell you Id be late. Fine. So sorry. I was very sick over Christmas. I need to get my bussticker if they let me anyways.

I took Ginger shots. D3. B vitamins. Berries. If stomach kevitita or ginger komucha. Eucalyptus oil on a paper towel then drape a sheet or towel over your head to breathe it in. Or an olbas inhaler. Zinc drops at whole foods. The organic elderberry or raspberry ones are good. I am into holistic care. I hope you feel better

I sent you material from last week but never heard anything. I hope you are ok.

2 things. First I was told to be on Canvas but when I go on Canvas my film 33 is not there.

Second yesterday was my first day in Film 33. Everything seemed Ok until the subject of acting came up and I expressed the fact that I am an actor and I studied with a director who even said I could be a lead. I did not say it in a way to say that was what I wanted in the class. I do not. I want casting to change. Another student agreed with me saying it is an American thing to judge on looks.

On the way home i discovered the following on my twitter. Some porn person liking a prior attack about my relationship with my father. The day I have the class? I am sorry they are graphic. This had happened before. I get attacked and a porn account likes the attacks & twitter does not remove them. I want to sue Twitter.

Carrasco said in class the school does not do porn. Well i report it. The acciunt may be down now. I blocked it.

The director of Cora worked for Homeland. So did my father. But as someone well educated no one should be attacking me like this or telling me how to live my life. I want to work. But i want to work with people who are into acting and are liberal. I can not work in reality TV or sports.

I have a BA in Theater. A Masters in Performing Arts. I came to SMC so get skills to get work to support my passion. Not have it snuffed out. I have been honest. The federal government has my law loans. They know i am at SMC. I went to school in DC for law. Back in DC i worked in law but in the arts. This is insane.

Hi Laura,

I got worse so I went to doctor and have been out sick and getting better but not 100% yet. I started printing up the tweets and have noticed notified the instructor that I am looking into your contact concerns. I will continue when I return next week.

I am sorry for the inconvenience and the stress that you're experiencing. Please take care of yourself.

Regards,
Gloria

I am sorry. I hope you feel better. This is making me feel violated though abd as if i canbnot have normal relations with other students in the class. Im not interested in doing sound. I only have 2 classes and i can not drop the class. Financially id be screwed and progeessionally. I could be working if not for the attacks. I am meeting with a writer monday to co write a tv series. I have other stuff going on. I do not need what i feel are manioulative games.

I got an email from a production company i would love to work for. I have been on their mail list for a decade and they do the kind of work I can live with. I am talking Clooney side of Hollywood versus Eastwood. I responded and asked if they could use someone like me as an employee. They sent me a list of open positions to apply for.

I am too old to make me go back to where i am from. My Parents sold my family home in 1995. And as a lawyer I could be doing research and writing from home.

I built www.artistichope.com

I built www.womenlovepeace.artistichope.com

I do not have allot of friends. But the ones I do have would tell you I do not deserve disrespect or pain. I want to work and be challenged. Not waste anyones times, especially my own.

Please get better. Peace.
